

AC20 DO
Wood-Aluminium Door

MODERN. FUNCTIONAL. SAFE.

The AC20 DO wood-aluminium door combines an incomparable feel-good experience with luxuriously appealing design. The AC20 DO door is primarily used in educational buildings such as schools and kindergartens, as the outward-opening system can be configured as an anti-panic or emergency exit door in accordance with DIN 179 or DIN 1125, with controlled automatic access as an additional security function.

The cosy warmth of the wooden frame on the inside creates a feel-good atmosphere in your entrance area, in a way that only wood-aluminium doors can do. The weatherproof aluminium cladding protects your door from all environmental conditions from the outside, allowing you to enjoy a long lifespan of your door.

The multi-point locking mechanism with heavy hardware technology allows the AC20 DO system to be built as a hinged door weighing up to 300 kg and offers you optimum burglary protection up to security class RC2.

All our entrance doors can be configured with additional accessories such as integrated overhead door closers, motorised door closers/openers, anti-panic locks and automated access controls via fingerprint, card or numerical code.

VISION. HIGHLIGHT.

The AC20 DO system is a winning combination of practicality, technological design and energy efficiency and meets the highest quality requirements worldwide.

It impresses with its elegant, flush appearance on the outside and therefore ideally complements modern building architecture.

Exposed timber is a unique building material that is engaging to see and evokes feelings of warmth and beauty.
